LAFAYETTE

This map illustrates a rural land ownership pattern in a township, likely in Iowa. The area is divided into several sections, each containing numerous plots of land. Handwritten property names and numbers are scattered across the map, often enclosed in small rectangles. Roads are marked with letters (A, M, E, S) and numbers (e.g., 69, 30, 35, 36). Town names like LAFAYETTE, WASHINGTON, and MILFORD are visible along the edges. Specific landmarks include the Ames Golf & Country Club, the Iowa State University Research Station, and various farm names like Borgmeyer, Flumerfelt, and Hassebroek.

The map displays a complex network of property boundaries, many of which are represented by dashed lines. Roads are shown as solid lines, and major roads like LINCOLN HWY and MAPLE AVE are clearly marked. The property parcels are numerous and varied in size, with some being quite large and others very small. Each parcel is associated with a specific owner or entity, whose name is written in a box or circle. The names include Barilla America Inc., Margaret Tomm, Mattachana Limited Partnership, Lila Vander Ploog, Bonnie Knutson et al., Ronald Jensen, Alton Carsrud, et ux, Jane Miller et al., MC Smith Jr. et al., and many others. The map also shows several state-owned lands, such as State of Iowa and State of Missouri. The overall layout is a mix of rectangular and irregular shapes, reflecting the natural and man-made boundaries of the area.
